CHAPTER I

MINI-PLATFORM

1/8 INCH TO 3/4 INCH FRONT PLATFORM RISE

The chill of the mirror and the gaze of a stranger, she felt strapped in like her shoes.

The cold of the metal and the heat of the room were too much so she decided to go out to the club.

Later she would enlist him to escort her here, back to this room, this cold marble countertop, where they would freely discuss the finer points of her shoes. He was well aware of the power of her straps and the mysteries that they could unlock.

Belle

Belle was a dreamer, and she would use the gentle mist from the flowers that he sent her to guide her into a world of wind and desire. These were definitely not garden shoes. She took to tiptoeing around the flowerbed, allowing the perfume of the rose petals to land on the straps and heels of her shoes. She then slowly ran her finger up her ankles and her legs.

Romance

Pedestaled, noticed, she would lure one into Her world full of fluff with the subtle tickle of a breeze. The Sun would shine through her blouse and her heels became a Lucite dream, one that takes her away, far, far, faraway. Soft and comfortable she would gently spin, cushioned by a cumulous cloud, smiling as the wind parts her lashes.

Caress

Later, sprawled out, waiting for Sunday to end, pinned down in crushed velvet, She would dream of Him, in Her corner. And He would wait, reenergized, then scoop her heels high into the air, escorting Her to a purple cloud... She landed, one foot gripping the ground, gazing across a foreign room, musky and full of a masculine scent.

Bliss

The afternoon would end where it began—with a gentle breeze. Excited, heels digging into soft cotton, she might have readied herself, dressed wrong, immersed in 'badness'. When cotton turns to satin then the music begins to fill the air.

Chic

A ballerina never smiles she just dances. Stilettos stomp high atop flowers, the same flowers that started everything. Pink Straps seem to be all pulling in one direction. The same fingertips that earlier traced the beauty of the garden, now followed the flower patterns of her silk sheets.

The dance company was to convene in the early morning at eight. She planned to have a headache or some ache that would make it impossible to make the practice. For now, she would be content to float upwards, leaving on only her shoes suspended in space.

She decided to make dinner for him. She was a chef of sorts, and insisted upon the proper appetizers. He was raised in the Circus, and seemed most comfortable on being served with the Spinning of Plates. There was a rotisserie effect created that seemed to please him. 'Pleasure' was her middle name, literally, and they both rejoiced in this fact.

She would not rush. She liked to stroll as he hurried. The sound of the earth turning beneath her feet, reminded her of just how to best handle him. He had waited for three years. She would do that, put them on a long leash and revel in their anticipatory glances. He would trot to her like a Westi Terrier and the slower she moved the more she smiled.

Desert, would be served too, with a small glass of port and a pear. She would dance for the treats, the spoils of the pleasure that she gave others. Careful was she not to touch her heels to the wood. He made certain to adorn her with exotic fruits and wines. She was anything but common and he made certain to remind her of that fact. When she danced like this, she would forget where she was and where she had been.

Others would wonder what secret these heels held and she would let them wonder. Maybe they were filled with secret springs or coils that allowed her to bounce from one part of the stage to the next in hardly anytime at all.

Tonight she planned to wear these shoes. Now she would anoint them, honor them, and remind them of what kind of journey that they were to embark upon.

The Sun would set near the Ocean and the Wind would raise her skirt. She would shine bright, well heeled, present for everyone. A thin line of light on the horizon would lead her into stardom.

CHAPTER II MID-PLATFORM

1¼ INCH TO 2¾ INCH FRONT PLATFORM RISE

She was a patron of the arts. The trestles of her hair, she wore as if a crown, as they dangled in the midnight air. She brought her sentry along, her guard, and they both enjoyed the festivities. They came for their favorite treats. She knew his particular preferences, and her deepest secrets would remain with him forever. It had started as a folly, a lark... an evening of wrong. As of late it became something that both he and she would yearn for- a night carefully designed as well as desired. When they were seated at the club, she felt treasured. A voyeur, was she and he knew best to cater to her every pleasure. When the light cast shadows of the dancers through the crowd, they both felt a tingle of excitement, a glimpse into a world underneath the very stage where all of the fireworks took place.

Dolly

Everything about her was soft and alluring. She was the Pink Lady. Her shoes looked like ice cream on a hot July day. When she spoke, she spoke in whispers. She would wait here in her special room between dances, feeling the weight of her shoes as they made their way through the satin air.

Party

The shoe is what they all wanted. They were professionals and the shoe was the prize, the glitter, the song that each could sing to each other. The winner, the top dancer when it counted, got "the shoe". Francesca had set her sights on it, all dancers did. It glittered like black stars in an electric midnight sky.

Indulge

Orla did not compete. She did not need to compete. She was a classic, and preferred black and white heels, two toned. She liked the feel of the black and white printed pages between her fingers. She was working on a story behind the story, of the dancers, not the club, but the dancers themselves.

Jezebel

Jezebel had a voice that was smooth, soft and whispery. She was a broadcaster of sorts, a presenter of many and she knew how to hold the microphone. Kerry Sanger Lange Gosford was her real name and she had a encryptic way of reminding her audience of that fact.

Joanna treasured all of the dancers and yearned to model. Before they went out under the lights she would grab them, and caress their legs, and fill them with the energy that they would need and all that they would want.

Angel was a contortionist and used this in her art. She had grace and the fire of a flamenco dancer. The clear plastic triangle of her shoes, soon became a symbol, for the special dance that Angel would perform.

Marcy wished she had the beauty and allure of Maggie. Maggie was born to dance, to be watched and to be admired. Even during rehearsals, people were riveted to her beauty and glamour.
